

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., February 19, 1889.

Sir:-

In reply to your letter of the 18th instant enclosing memorandum No. 30, of gold bullion received at your mint from the Assayer in charge of the U. S. Assay Office at Charlotte, and calling attention to a discrepancy of $63.³⁸ in the value of the gold as ascertained at your mint and at the Assay Office at Charlotte, I would say that inasmuch as every care has been taken by the Assayer at your mint to locate the error, if any, in the assay, and none having been found, I do not deem it necessary to have clippings sent to any other mint or assay office for re-assay, and will therefore ask that a transfer of the amount be made from the bullion fund of the Assay Office at Charlotte to your mint upon the memorandum forwarded by you.

Respectfully yours,

John S. Kimball
Director of the Mint.

Sir: -

In reply to your letter of the 18th instant enclosing memorandum No. 3 of gold bullion received at your mint from the assayer in charge of the U.S. Assay Office at Charlotte and calling attention to a discrepancy of $63.38 in the value of the gold as ascertained at your mint and at the Assay Office at Charlotte, I would say that in as much as every care has been taken by the Assayer at your mint to locate the error, if any, in the assay, and none having been found, I do not deem it necessary to have clippings sent to any other mint or assay office for re-assay, and will therefore ask that a transfer of the amount be made from the bullion fund of the Assay Office at Charlotte to your mint upon the memorandum forwarded by you.

Respectfully yours,
James P. Kimball
Director of the Mint.
